Hobby Home Tour Slated Friday by YW

Many never-before-exhibited items will be shown on the Hobby-Hopping homes tour of the Harbor Area YWCA tomorrow from 1-5 and 7-9 p.m.

Hobbies will be displayed in five homes and at the YWCA headquarters building in San Pedro. "Those making the tour may start at any home on the tour," Mrs. John K. Brown, general chairman said.

Tickets with a map of the tour will be available at each home and at the YWCA in Torrance, Wilmington, and San Pedro.

Antique cars will be displayed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cherry, 321 North Wycliff. Included in this collection is a 1910 Velie Touring car, a 1912 Flanders roadster, a Reo roadster, and a 1915 Nera-Car.

Mrs. Marco DeNicolai has opened her home at 2065 Elanita Drive so that visitors may view her collection of antique dolls.

Included in this collection of more than 200 are chinas, bisques, wax, wooden shoe, hut, musical and mechanical dolls, bonnet dolls, celluloid, and French, and German dolls.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Patterson Jr., 1859 W. 27th St., is furnished with oriental treasures that may be viewed from 1 to 5 p.m. only. Ormately carved tables, some made in the orient for the particular spot they occupy, antiques, pictures of mother of pearl, and silver, tin, and brass items make up this collection.

Members of the San Pedro Art Association will exhibit paintings at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Becker, 2031 South Patton.

Artists who will exhibit are Alice Tenneson Hawkins, Violet Teuber, Toby Sarich, Ethel Williams, Dan Wood, Allen Pederson, Ruby Butcher, Mabel Cory, Leslie Stone, and Lucille Becker.

Original Ceramics and murals by Mrs. Sam Randazzo will be shown in her home, 2545 Robalo. Smaller collections will be shown at the YW. Exhibitors here are Mrs. Clyde Eccles, purple glass; Bessie Burlingame, pressed flower pictures; Alta Tarrango, shells; Mrs. R. H. Bedford, demitasse and teacups; Alfred Stave, ships in bottles; Mrs. Robert Breen, salt and pepper shakers from around the world; and Mrs. George Raymond, rocks. Mrs. Lawrence Myers is in charge of refreshments to be served at the association building.

Manuscripters Set Talk on Confession Writing

Ardythe Hitchcock will be guest speaker at the Southwest Manuscripters tomorrow.

She will speak on confession writing, discussing formula and markets.

Recently, she spoke at the Pasadena Writers Conference on "Slanting for Markets" and at the Los Angeles Woman's Press Club on "Creative Imagination."

She has judged story contests and will judge entries for the Southwest Manuscripters forthcoming contest.

A teacher of creative writing, Ardythe Hitchcock also has worked in the movies, radio, and television.

Her article entitled, "Anatomy of a Play," will appear this week in the writers magazine, "TV Author and Review."

Southwest Manuscripters meet at 8 p.m. at Clark Stadium, 861 Valley Drive, Hermosa Beach and welcome both beginning and professional writers.
